

Preventable. Treatable. Beatable.

Colorectal Cancer Awareness Day

March 4, 2011 10:00a.m.—2:00p.m.

Transportation Building 200 Mero Street, Frankfort, KY

Preventable. Treatable. Beatable.

Guest Speakers

Whitney Jones, MD

Gastroenterologist & founder of the Colon Cancer Prevention Project

Crit Luallen, State Auditor

Christie Burkhead, D.E.I.

Transportation Auditorium

11:45a.m.-12:45p.m.

Pike County Educational Walk-Through Colon

available for self-guided tours beginning at 10:00a.m.

Information tables will be available in the Transportation Lobby

Journey to Wellness, CHFS, Colon Cancer Prevention Project

American Cancer Society, Humana, and First Onsite

Blue Wellness Walk in Frankfort beginning at 10:30a.m. and 1:00p.m.

<http://www.visitfrankfort.com/LinkClick.aspx?fileticket=zZ4mQ1%2bNjQ0%3d&tabid=1572>

Trolley Schedule: <http://transit.frankfort.ky.gov/dmdocuments/frankforttransittrolleymap&schedule.pdf>

Trolley arrives at the Transportation Building at 10:20	11:00	11:40	12:20	1:00	1:40	2:20

-------	-------	-------	-------	------	------	------

Wear Blue to work and show your support!

Colon Cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death in Kentucky. Each year, over 2,500 Kentuckians are diagnosed with colon cancer and more than 900 die from this disease. Up to 90 percent of colon cancer deaths could be prevented by following the screening guidelines and removing colon polyps before they become cancerous. Please Join us at the Transportation Building to learn more about prevention, screening, treatment, and your KEHP health benefits.